Dear Community Leader:

Now is the time for a renewed progressive coalition to bring our issues to the front, and start to move on the offensive to make our communities better. I would like to invite you to the Socially Responsible Network (SRN) 2006 Kick Off Event on January 21st, 2005. Former Congressman Ronald Dellums will be the keynote speaker and will discuss the importance of unity and organizing methods for the progressive community. We hope you will take part in a growing network to build change in the East Bay. Please see the attached flyer for more information.

"Since 1999 the SRN has brought non-profits and community activists together, bridging important links. As we move into 2006 it's an important time to come together and advance our common progressive goals."

-Keith Carson, President of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors

Over the last year the Socially Responsible Network has successfully established our 501(c)(3) status and formed an independent Board of Directors and Advisory Board to lead and serve the SRN. Understanding the importance of fostering new leadership we conducted an extensive three month summer youth program working in partnership with various non-profits serving youth. Funding from the San Francisco Foundation will enable us to increase and enhance the resources and programs scheduled for the coming year. One example of this is a new website www.srnbay.org that has a wealth of resources and information for community organizing and capacity building.

We hope that you will join us at our 2006 Annual Kick Off Event and join a renewed effort to build a progressive network organization that will be an important resource to you.
